Sorry, again, for the false alarm. It's looking beautiful out here.

>>> Hi Steve. If you head to the La Brea median today you will see that Sarah is overseeing a major replanting of that space. She has asked if it is possible to get overnight security posted to guard plants that will not have been planted yet. It is a two day job. We could pay for this from our surplus. It is short notice but this does. It have to be an armed guard. Just someone to keep watch to ensure vandals don't steal away with plants.
